Follow up on Turnitin Late Assignments

The Turnitin option to accept late submissions is not as generous as the Canvas options may be.

The Turnitin late submission is intended to let students make their first submission after the due date if they were unable to do so prior to the due date. The goal is not to allow multiple late submissions after the due date (which I think is a feature other Canvas assignments allow).

One special clarifying point from the linked help document, "It is important to note that late resubmissions are never allowed, even if the assignment is set to allow resubmissions and to accept late submissions. When allowed, resubmissions can be made up until the due date and time, but not after."
